

ABSTRACT

An optical assembly includes a package with an optoelectronic component, and an alignment feature mounted to a surface of the package. The alignment feature is to be inserted into a sleeve sized to mate with a ferrule of a fiber optic connector.